President's Message

With all the delightful warm weather we are having, the new green buds on our trees lets us know that Spring has Sprung! Luckily, we are turning our clocks forward on March 9th to give us an extra hour of sunshine for all the new growth that is occurring. I'm wishing you all the luck of the Irish on St. Patrick's' Day on March 17th, and don't forget to "Welcome Home" our Vietnam Veterans on their special day on March 29th. Mark your calendar for March 11th as we are having our monthly luncheon with special guest speaker Brittany Parks, the Strategic Director for Concerned Veterans for America (CVA). CVA has been a supporter of our MOAA Florida Council of Chapter (FCoC) and our organizations have much to learn from each other. I went into their website www.cv4a.org and discovered both MOAA and CVA are supporting the ACCESS Act (Assuring Critical Care Expansions to Support Servicemembers) to expand veterans' community care options. Like MOAA, the CVA website makes it very easy for anyone to sign a prepared letter that is sent to our federal legislators in support of veteran legislation.

If it's been a while since you've attended one of our Chapter luncheons, please reserve April 12nd (our only Saturday luncheon) to come out and celebrate our JROTC Scholarship recipients, their family and cadre. This is my favorite luncheon event as it's an opportunity to showcase our future military leaders and recognize them with the generous financial donations from our chapter members for their achievements. Lastly, I know there are chapter members who don't always come to our luncheons and thus may not get a reminder that the $20 dues we each pay to support our chapter are now overdue. We rely on the dues to help pay for items such as meals for our guest speakers, and medals for our JROTC/ROTC cadets. Please note that we have changed our mailing address for our Chapter: MOAA CFC, 10151 University Blvd, PMB 145, Orlando, FL 32817-1904. You will see the form at the end of this newsletter or go into

At our February Luncheon:

We had two great speakers at our February Luncheon. Postponed from January and therefore eagerly awaited, Ms. Veteran American 2024, Cassandra Guzman, was our guest speaker. Cassandra represents both the Ms. Veteran America and Final Salute organizations.

Cassandra is a distinguished Real Estate Professional, Interior Designer, and Military Veteran from Orlando, Florida. She is originally from Geneva, Ohio where she enlisted in 2008 resulting with ten years of service in the United States Air Force bringing a wealth of resilience, experience, and dedication to her community and field. She comes from a proud military family in which her grandparents, parents, and husband have served and continue to serve this great nation.

During her military service, Cassandra excelled as a Medical Logistics Technician and Professional Military Education Instructor. Her leadership spanned from organizing military ceremonies, to mentoring future Air Force leaders, and ensuring global medical readiness. She demonstrated exceptional skills in leadership, organization, communication, and management, leading teams of 20 in dynamic environments.

Cassandra, her husband Carlos, Richard Proctor and Charles Smith

Her achievements include meticulous asset management, surpassing senior leadership expectations, and nurturing future Air Force leaders. Cassandra served at overseas duty stations including Eielson Air Force Base, Alaska, and Kadena Air Base, Okinawa, Japan, earning accolades such as the Air Force Commendation Medal and the Air Force Achievement Medal for her outstanding performance and dedication.

MENTAL PROWESS AND CHALLENGES

By Pat Green

Most of us have noticed a mental decline in a close friend or family member. This person is not as sharp, witty or speedy as they once were. We may wonder if we also seem so, to others.

Mental decline is not just a phenom of aging. Some as young as 40 speculate about this topic. Stress, emotions, and poor diet and sleep reduce cognitive skills, and affect all ages.

If you have had a stroke, a brain injury, or if you are concerned about a perceived mental decline, speak to your family doctor. If the doctor recognizes an issue, a Neurologist can provide a detailed cognitive skills evaluation.

Physical health and emotional health correlate with mental health. If you are consumed with grief or anxiety or dealing with a disease, deal with that first. If serious grieving extends more than two years, seek some grief counseling for help. Complicated grief is seen in 9% of widows in the 60-75 age range. A smaller percentage of men are affected.

If you want to improve your mental skills, there are some mental Strengthening Exercises that can be built into daily activities. Even a schedule of exercises a few times a day result in improvement. When you are ready, try the mental gymnastics below:

RECALL: Practice memorizing names, phone numbers, vocabulary words, MLB standings, NCAA March Madness lineups, or TV program schedules. Look at a magazine photo for a few seconds, close your eyes and try to recall items in the photo.

ANALYSIS: Read a newspaper article. Set it aside, then try to write a recap or summary of the article. Try to remember the “who, what, when, where, and why”.

SPATIAL: Rearrange a linen closet, pantry or garage. Look for the most pragmatic and yet economical use of space. Do the same exercise with drawers in kitchen, bed, or bath. While you’re at it, set aside some donation items and throw out expired items.

SOCIAL: Have a conversation every day. If you live alone, this may be a challenge. Practice small talk at the checkout line of stores. Initiate a phone call or an invitation. This is a must. Accept any invitations you receive. Try to remember a joke you can tell at your next social event.

FOCUS: Stay focused on whatever activity you are engaged. It may be a conversation, gardening, dancing, chores or workouts at the gym. Focus on listening, strength, the number of repetitions, muscles involved, posture, and breathing. Be in one with your thoughts. Meditation and prayer are very good options of mental focus.

FUN and GAMES: This can be all manner of social get-togethers. But there are some good solitary options.

Spatial: Jig saw puzzles provide color and form discernment. Manipulation of the pieces is also good hand-eye coordination practice.

Analysis: Sudoku uses number grids, but it is not a math game. It is a logic exercise. Start with easy grids and progress to expert status.

Recall: Using computer sites, you can play Bridge, Gin Rummy, or Hearts with robots. These games require a memory of cards played and the counted.

Once your skills have improved, socialize and play games with others and remember to have FUN!

Governor Ron DeSantis’ 2025 Budget Provides Vital Funding to Florida’s Veteran Community

Gov. Ron DeSantis’ 2025 Budget provides the nation’s highest premier services and support to the state’s veterans, their families and survivors through the Florida Department of Veterans’ Affairs (FDVA). FDVA is responsible for serving the nation’s estimated second largest veteran population. Serving as the premier point of entry for Florida’s 1.4 million veterans.

For 2025, Gov. Ron DeSantis signed proclamations honoring Veterans, including Memorial Day and Veterans Day, Vietnam War Veterans Day in Florida, the 80th Anniversaries of D-Day and the Battle of the Bulge, Korean War Remembrance Day, Florida Purple Heart Day, POW/MIA Recognition Day and Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day in Florida.

Florida 2025 Veteran Legislation Issues:

Opening day of the 2025 Florida Legislative Session is Tuesday, March 4. The FDVA & FVC Councils attended a Military Veteran Legislation Breakfast on Feb 18th at 7:30am at the Capital, and following the breakfast they held their Council meeting to discuss Veteran related legislative issues. Three key 2025 issues are Veteran Treatment Courts, provide specific written disclosures as safeguards for Veterans' seeking advice on their Veterans Benefits from agencies that may seek compensation, and increase value of tax exemption for certain disabled ex-servicemembers.

The 2025 Florida Veterans Benefits Guide is now available. This guide is designed for Florida Veterans, their families, and surviving spouses, and explains their State benefits (not VA benefits). You can find it on our website at

Also, FDVA's monthly Forward March Veterans' Newsletter continues to grow subscribers. The email subscription-based newsletter has more than 62,000 subscribers and is available by visiting www.FloridaVets.org In addition to the informative monthly email, please explore the website to gain additional information about benefits, points of contacts, and specific information vital to our veterans and their families.

Florida FDVA Women Veterans' Outreach:

A new comprehensive website for Florida's 168,000 women veterans was launched in 2024 at <https://womenveterans.floridavets.org>. The Sunshine State is home to the second-largest population of women Veterans in the nation. Many women Veterans don't know they are eligible for the full range of federal and state benefits, including special programs. 2024 Florida Veterans Hall of Fame

The Florida Veterans' Hall of Fame recognizes and honors those military veterans who, through their works and lives during or after military service, have made a significant contribution to the state of Florida through civic, business, public service or other pursuits. It is not a traditional military hall of fame, as it focuses on post-military contributions to the State of Florida. Our own Major Lorraine Holland, USA (Ret), was honored to be a 2024 recipient. She thanks all of you and our Central Florida Veteran Organizations that helped open many doors to assist our Florida Veterans and their families.

Go to <https://floridaveteranshalloffame.org>

We encourage you to nominate a 2025 Florida Veteran for this recognition from the Florida Department of Veterans Affairs (FDVA); nominations are due by April 1st.
